- You need to secure an internship related to your field.

Possible placements

- Research projects
- Colleges
- University departments
- NGOs with research components
- Literary organisations
- Banks and offices if they need communication related personnel

The internship should be 100 hours in total. This could be on the days that you do not have classes or in the evenings, and at the weekend etc.

- A letter of permission will be given by the department through an allocated coordinator in the name of the organization you identify after you have taken verbal consent from the organization.
- You are expected to have a supervisor at the host organization who will assign you tasks and monitor and evaluate your performance.
- A departmental coordinator will be in touch with your supervisor if and when needed.

Expectations during the internship

- You should maintain at least 90% attendance during the internship.
- You are expected to maintain a log of daily activities highlighting what you did during the work day.
- You will also be asked to write a reflective journal every day during the time of the internship pointing out what you learnt from your work.

(A template for both is provided at the end of the document.)

At the end of the internship:

- The organization will give you a letter of completion, where they will be requested to assess your overall performance and give marks out of 20 for your performance. These marks will count towards the total score.

After the internship:

- You will complete and submit a report/portfolio to the course coordinator after two weeks of completion.
